

One Small Voice

One small voice in a world full of voices.
One small part of an infinite plan.
One small child
breathing one small prayer
asking only one more voice somewhere
to be one small voice in a world full of voi

One by one, notes make a symphony.
One tiny raindrop falls
and meets the sea.
Each voice though small,
when intertwined,
creates strength as you add yours to mine.
Your small voice
may make the difference to us all.

One small voice in a world joining voices.
Each, tiny part of the infinite plan.
One small child.
One small prayer
asking one more voice to join
until we know that everywhere;
each small voice helps to fill all the world with song.

One small voice.
One
small voice.
